

Our college application boot camp is designed to help students get a “jump-start” on their college applications under the guidance of our academic counselor. Considering the recent date changes on FAFSA and college application opening dates, this boot camps are really needed for those who would like to get one step ahead from their peers. It will be completely free and attending is highly recommended. Students will:

- Gain an understanding of the college admissions process and how admissions officers evaluate applications.
- Receive advice on which teachers should write the recommendations and how to ask for their help.
- Get feedback on which schools to apply to and the chances of admission.
- Learn interviewing techniques for admissions and alumni interviews.
- Tips for FAFSA application and preparation.
- Private scholarship resources.

Boot camp will take place in the computer lab on June 20, 2017 - Tuesday at 1 PM. For any further questions, please email Mr. Alkan via alkan@dsatulsa.org
